

America has lost its soul©

It traded the moral responsibility to prevent human rights abuse for personal convenience in 1973. “America the beautiful” has died. Feminist “convenience” and their pathetic male accomplices have legally desecrated the freedom of unborn Americans to enjoy life, liberty and their pursuit of happiness. Compounding this travesty of human rights violations is the direct involvement of the medical profession which abandoned “Do no harm” for the financial reward that followed and to their great shame. Fifty million barbarically destroyed souls later, America elects a leader (Obama) who would be comfortable aborting a grandchild (his own words) if one of his daughters makes a “mistake”. To claim in recent polls that America is a pro-life nation is ludicrous beyond the pale and is in stark contrast to the recent election of that same man who proudly announced for Planned Parenthood’s benefit that, he “would not yield”. This leader (and his political party) is determined to protect feminists and abortionists, legally deny any birth, (which is every soul-in-the-womb’s God-given right) if that birth is “inconvenient”.

A “women’s right to choose” is remarkable in its outright feminists hypocrisy for it denies the unborn American woman her right to be born. Twenty five million sisters-in-the-womb tragically exterminated in the name of women’s rights demonstrates the profound depth of evil that the movement has achieved. There is no love for women born and unborn in abortion (abuse of women) by feminists, their male supporters and their political party. Abortion destroys a life and is love-less.

Is America any better or worse since 1973? Once the sanctity of the womb was legally violated and no reversal followed, anything sacred was fair game and it was attacked. The assault has been successful. Abortion on demand was followed by deviance on demand and the “State” took to the task with equal enthusiasm. Approval of same sex unions (or marriage) is accelerating through the land. The leader (and his political party) is fully complicit in this and the forced indoctrination (vilest of child abuse) of our children by its proponents demonstrates another profound evil in which America is fully engaged. Deviance denies a life and is love-less.

“Church” spouting lofty rhetoric without effect, is neutered effectively by the leader and his political party, the smoke and mirrors of “common ground” and the subtle but more effective threat of retaliation for any dissent deemed “political”. Any shepherd with out a staff is love-less.

So “Church” and “State” sustain a symbiotic relationship to consummate evil (Human rights abuse of women and children) in the name of “freedom”. Pagan at its core!

America having truly lost its soul is love-less.
